

1. What is Justis?

Over 800 years of law online

Justis is an online legal library containing over 800 years of full-text case law, legislation and journal articles

- ▶ Case law: From State Trials dating back to 1163, to the latest judgments from the Court of Appeal
- ▶ Legislation: Justis holds the most comprehensive body of as-enacted legislation available online including Acts from 1235, statutory instruments from 1671 and local and private acts from 1797. When you need legislation in its original form, Justis has it.

A wide range of packages from different jurisdictions

2. Tailored to suit your needs

Pick and choose the titles you want

When you subscribe to Justis, we'll tailor your subscription to suit your needs. Our flexible packages can save you money as you'll only pay for what you need.

We offer a variety of packages covering UK, Irish, EU and international law from a wide variety of authoritative legal sources.

As well as primary case law, Justis has a range of specialist series, such as the International Law Reports, CCH Tax Cases and the Information Law Reports and exclusive collections from common law jurisdictions around the world, from Ireland to Singapore.

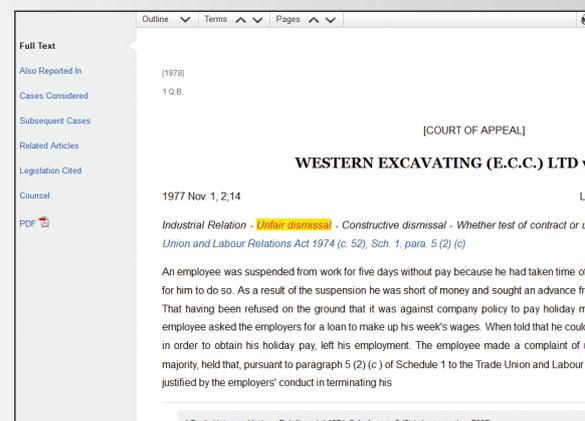

3. Designed with the user in mind

Justis's interface is clean, clear and easy to use

Search and results screens on Justis can be refined to help you pinpoint exactly what you're looking for and filter out other documents.

Justis's document layout makes reading cases, legislation and articles easy, and has been optimised for tablets and mobile devices.

Exact replica PDFs of cases are available, ready for presentation in court.

Document view

4. Better search results

Justis ranks documents by true relevance

Search results on Justis take into account factors such as a document's publication authority and its relationship with other legal documents, as defined by the citation index of its sister service, JustCite.

This allows search results to be ranked by their true relevance and help users find the information they need quickly.

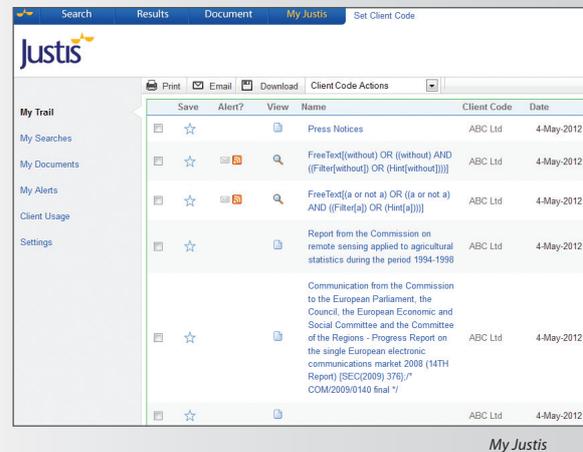

Justis Relevance Ranking

5. Keep track of your research

Justis makes it easy to manage your work

You can manage your settings and activity history through My Justis, making it easy to retrieve and save previously viewed documents and searches, as well as monitor your research.

Email alerts and RSS feeds can be set up in My Justis, so that you're always kept up to date with any new documents that match your search criteria.

My Justis

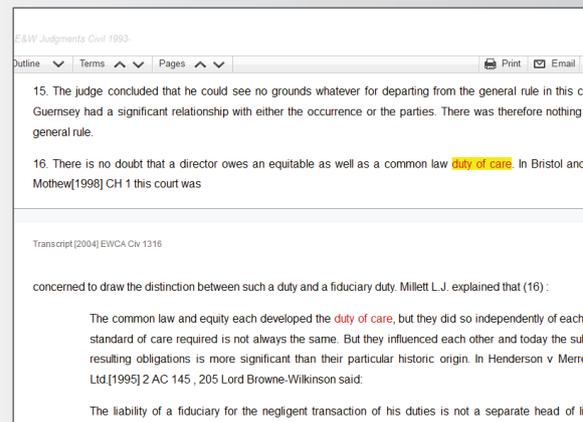

6. Who uses Justis?

Top legal minds around the world

Justis is used worldwide by legal practitioners, information professionals and law students.

In the UK alone well over half of all practising barristers and advocates have access to titles through Justis.

Of the top 100 solicitor firms in the UK, more than 60% subscribe to one or more titles through us and our overseas subscriptions extend to 84 countries.

Justis is used by legal professionals across the world

Justis is particularly user-friendly and is equipped with a good search facility. The essential benefit is convenience – Justis brings voluminous shelves of bound law reports directly to your computer monitor without the need to leave your desk to find and then copy them.

Stuart Brittenden, Barrister, Old Square Chambers

